It is designed to inform prospective applicants about the Programme’s objectives, the support provided by GEAF, and the responsibilities associated with serving as a GEAF Ambassador. It also presents the application and selection process, required documentation, training and development components, support mechanisms, and the role of selected participants in implementing community-based environmental initiatives as part of 4.29 Green Earth Action Day.

Applicants are encouraged to review this document carefully to ensure that they understand the expectations of the Programme and are prepared to actively contribute to a six-month leadership journey focused on climate action, sustainability, environmental justice, and community engagement.

ABOUT GEAF

The Green Earth Action Foundation (GEAF) is an international non-profit organization accredited by the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland. Founded in 2023, GEAF was established in response to the urgent need for systemic solutions to the climate crisis and the growing demand for inclusive, youth-led sustainability leadership.

GEAF works to translate environmental awareness into measurable action. Our initiatives are aligned with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and guided by UNEP principles. From supporting youth participation in international climate forums to implementing capacity-building programmes and community-led initiatives in underserved contexts, GEAF promotes solutions that are locally grounded and scalable.

Our work spans community engagement, awareness, and advocacy, and practical action, bridging grassroots mobilisation with broader systemic change.

The GEAF Ambassador Programme is GEAF's flagship initiative, designed to support emerging environmental leaders to deliver tangible impact in their communities. Over a six-month period, GEAF Ambassadors participate in structured training and development sessions, receive coordination and communications support, and access funding to implement a grassroots initiative as part of 4.29 Green Earth Action Day. Our approach emphasizes foresight and sustainability: we equip participants to implement initiatives that endure, while fostering ongoing collaboration and a lasting relationship with GEAF, ensuring that their impact continues beyond the Programme.

ABOUT THE GEAF AMBASSADOR PROGRAMME

The GEAF Ambassador Programme is GEAF's flagship initiative, designed to cultivate environmental stewardship and mobilize sustainability advocates across diverse regions and cultural contexts. Grounded in the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Programme empowers motivated individuals to design, implement, and promote community-based projects that address local environmental challenges while contributing to global climate action.

Each year, the Programme selects a cohort of GEAF Ambassadors from diverse professional, academic, and socio-cultural backgrounds who demonstrate leadership potential, organizational capacity, and a strong commitment to environmental and social change. Over a structured six-month cycle, GEAF Ambassadors are supported through four core components: Training and Development, Personalized Support, Grants for Local Project Implementation, and access to an International Network of peers, experts, partners, and environmental actors.

The Programme is structured to accompany GEAF Ambassadors throughout the full lifecycle of their initiatives, from project design and planning to implementation, reporting, and continued engagement. Through the Training and Development component, GEAF Ambassadors participate in thematic learning sessions covering key areas such as international climate governance, sustainable development, communication and advocacy, fundraising, innovation, and sustainability. These learning opportunities are complemented by one-to-one support from the GEAF team, providing tailored guidance on planning, budgeting, communications, implementation, and reporting.

To enable concrete action, GEAF provides grants to support GEAF Ambassador-led community projects developed in collaboration with environmental organizations, educational institutions, community leaders, and local partners. Through awareness-raising activities, clean-ups, biodiversity initiatives, and climate-smart livelihood projects, GEAF Ambassadors translate knowledge into tangible action and mobilize communities around sustainable behaviours.

The Programme culminates on 4.29 Green Earth Action Day, GEAF's annual global mobilization campaign, during which GEAF Ambassadors implement synchronized community-based actions and showcase their initiatives to an international audience. Beyond its six-month cycle, the GEAF Ambassador Programme seeks to foster long-term leadership, sustained collaboration, and continued engagement within GEAF's international network.
